

Figure 7-3

This shows the magnitude of the comparison stars versus their estimated spectral type. From the absolute magnitude of the spectral types, equal-distance contours are drawn. Also shown is a histogram of the maximum change in airmass estimated using all of the imaging observations. Each entry represents the maximum difference in airmass of all the observations of a single QSO. Also shown is a histogram of the magnitudes of the brightest comparison stars for each QSO field.